Dear Sir/Madam,

This is in reference to the notification in the Gazette of India -1st March, 2024 (CG-DL-E-15032024-253037), the National Commission for Homoeopathy (Minimum Essential Standards For Homoeopathic Colleges And Attached Hospitals) Regulations, 2024. According to the notification, it is imperative for attached teaching hospitals to obtain at least entry-level certification from NABH. This certification not only reflects commitment of healthcare organisation to patient safety and quality of care but also significantly enhances institution's credibility and trustworthiness in the healthcare community.

The Ministry of Ayush aims to enhance the essence of the quality of Ayush Hospitals, hence trusted NABH to initiate a collaborative effort with the organization for the successful implementation of the AYUSH Entry-Level Certification (AELC). This program has been launched in alignment with the Ministry of Ayush's broader goal to modernize AYUSH hospitals by upgrading infrastructure and integrating advanced facilities to meet contemporary healthcare standards.

The NABH Ayush Entry Level Certification offers numerous benefits, including improved community confidence and trust, a focus on safety and quality, and a road-map for standardization. It fosters a patient-centered culture, adopts a systems-oriented approach, enhances patient satisfaction levels, and leads to improved health outcomes. Moreover, this certification provides external recognition, enhances your institution's reputation, and can increase insurance coverage.

It is to inform that NABH as a national accreditation body, is planning to conduct an awareness programme and/or training session regarding Ayush Entry Level Certification (AELC) for interested organization in near future. In view of it, we urge that your organization adopts NABH standards, implement them in the true spirit and apply under AELC program on NABH portal.
